Dear Sir/Madam,

It is my understanding that any complaint against the doctor by the General Medical Council requires a Complainant. I have written to the GMC under the Freedom of Information Act to request they name the Complainant against Dr Wakefield. This they have refused to do and I enclose a copy of that refusal letter.

I am suspicious that there is no Complainant. However, the GMC refused to release this information to me as a third party.

I do recommend that you ask the GMC the same question. If indeed it transpires that there is no Complainant then the GMC have broken their own rules with respect to investigating doctors.

I hope that this is helpful. Very best wishes.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Sarah Myhill
